PROFILE  --                                                        --

I create educational content on the web as an eLearning Developer, associate level at PwC. I have a background in education - I taught English and maths at an international school in Tokyo and speak Japanese fluently. I am a tech, animation, samurai, and electropunk electroclash synth-pop enthusiast. I am fastidious and precise - and love a difficult problem. Look forward to speaking!
